Joseph Chamberlain
One of Britain's Best known Statesmen, Passes away

London, July 3.—Rt. Hon. Joseph Chamberlain died here last night.
The death of Joseph Chamberlain, which removed the most striking figure from British politics in the past generation, came as an entire surprise as the condition of his health was not publicly known to be any worse than at any time in the past two or three years.

Mrs. Chamberlain, who never left her husband's side since he was stricken with paralysis several years ago, and his son Joseph Chamberlain, were with Mr. Chamberlain when death occurred at 10.30 o'clock last night in his London residence. The event cast a gloom over the London season, which was at its height.

Mr. Chamberlain's last public appearance was at a garden party on May 6 last, when with his wife and son he received several hundred constituents. Mr. Chamberlain was wheeled out on the lawn in a chair and appeared very emaciated and feeble when he lifted his hat to friends and neighbors in acknowledgment of their salutes.

The Rt. Hon. Joseph Chamberlain was born in London, July 8, 1836, eldest son of the late J. Chamberlain and Catherine, daughter of the late H. Harbord. As a boy he was high spirited, mischievous and inquisitive, wanting to know the reason of everything. It is said that his youthful ambition was to be captain of all games and he generally succeeded in his desire. His school going only lasted from 1844 to 1852, the last two years of which period he attended the London University College school. He was head mathematical scholar of his year, bracketed first in French and in mathematics, with "distinguished" in Latin. At the age of sixteen he entered his father's screw factory and was connected with the firm until 1874, when he retired.

Joseph Chamberlain

London, July 3.—Rt. Hon. Joseph Chamberlain died here last night. He was the most conspicuous figure in the middle of England in the agitation which preceded the passing of the Education Act of 1870.

In 1880 he had become a member of the Birmingham town council; in 1870 was elected to the Birmingham school board; in 1873 he became its chairman, and in the same year was elected mayor of the city, a post to which he was re-elected in 1874 and 1875. In these six years he increased his popularity and won a surplus of revenue and the right to parliament in 1876, and which proved so lasting.

As mayor of Birmingham he proposed and carried the purchase of the waterworks and gas works, and introduced an improvement scheme which has proved a great benefit to the city. Under his guidance the city acquired handsome buildings, new streets, cheap gas and water, and a surplus of revenue and the death rate has fallen from thirty to twenty per 1,000. As all of the rebuilt areas will lapse to the corporation at the end of the twenty-five years, and the city will, about 1950, begin to derive a great revenue from its own property.

In 1874 he stood as a Radical candidate for Sheffield, and was defeated by over 1,000 vote, but in 1876 was elected without opposition member for Birmingham on the retirement of George Dixon. He made his maiden speech in the house of commons August 4, 1876, on the education bill, that year and soon became one of the familiar figures of the house. In 1880 he was elected president of the board of trade. Mr. Chamberlain proved eager, intrepid, self-reliant and selfless, with notions about property, land, schools, popular rights, that he expressed with a plainness and pungency of speech that had never been heard from a private country gentleman. His sister before that exasperated opponents, startled the whips and won him many Radical friends.

He was instrumental in keeping up the fight for "Irish home rule" and was due to his efforts that it was passed. In 1888, again returned for Birmingham, and Mr. Gladstone offered him the presidency of the local government board in the cabinet, which he accepted, but resigned on the following month because of his objections to Mr. Gladstone's home rule measures for the Irish. After the cabinet conference had failed to re-unite the Liberal party, he assumed an attitude of uncompromising hostility to his old leader's new policy, and was bitterly assailed by the press as a renegade. He later completely broke away from his old party and became leader of the Liberal Unionists when the Duke of Devonshire went to the upper house.

In 1887 he was appointed plenipotentiary for the Salisbury government in the negotiations at Washington on the Canadian fisheries question.

A great deal of resentment was shown by the American press for what they termed Mr. Chamberlain's desertion of their cause, and ultimately the treaty arrangements by him with the United States representatives was rejected by the senate. In a speech at Toronto, he said: "It is my belief that the confederation of Canada may be the lamp to light our pathway to the confederation of the British empire. The idea may exist at present in the imagination of the enthusiast, but it is a grand idea."

On his return to England in 1888 he had a moment of suspension from hostilities, but for a time he hoped to form a party which should be independent of Conservatism. "A party which is greater than all other parties—a party which shall have national international, national security and national rights, and the only watchwords to which it owes its existence." Failing to realize his ambitions as to a national party he accepted office in the new Conservative administration of 1895 as colonial minister in the Unionist cabinet. In that capacity his chief aim was to unite more closely the colonists with the mother country.

During his tenure of office he had many difficult matters to handle. The "Jameson Raid" on the Transvaal in December, 1895, and the French claims in West Africa, caused considerable trouble and at the inquiry of the colonial minister in the Unionist cabinet. In that capacity his chief aim was to unite more closely the colonists with the mother country.

African republic preceding the outbreak of war in 1899 met with enthusiastic support from many, and severe censure from others.

In 1905 he was elected lord rector of the Glasgow University and he had much to do with the passing of the workmen's compensation act in 1907. He carried the Australian Federation measure to parliament in 1908. After the conclusion of the Boer war he visited South Africa and by his personal influence did much to bring about a good understanding between the Boers and the British government. In May, 1903, on his own responsibility, he proposed a scheme of fiscal reform which has since been the overwhelming topic of politics. It sharply divided the Unionist party, and led to many cabinet resignations. He resigned from the cabinet in 1903, owing to his pro-tariff views, in order to prosecute his campaign with independence.

In 1906 his health broke down and he never completely recovered from the attack. He was married three times, first, Harriet, daughter of the late Archibald Kenrick, Berrow Court, Edgborough, 1861, who died in 1883; second, Florence, daughter of Richard Kenrick, 1868, who died in 1870; third, 1888, Mary, daughter of W. C. Endcott (late judge Massachusetts, U.S.A., supreme court, and secretary war, President Cleveland's first administration). Mr. Chamberlain received the honorary degree of D.L.D. from Cambridge and D.C.L. from Oxford.

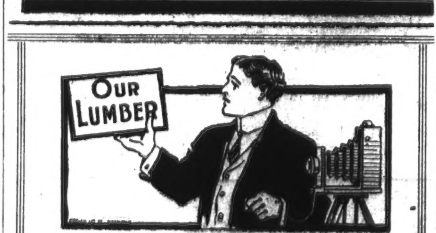

THE CHURCH AS A POLITICAL AGENT IS A FAILURE

The staid old province of Ontario stood nobly by the old man who has stood so nobly by Ontario, and paid its tribute in its own way to one of the most fearless and honest public men who ever held office in the Dominion of Canada. From this distance the result looked uncertain during the last ten days, but it lost all its uncertainty the moment the return began to arrive, the government of Sir James Whitney being sent back to power by a majority large enough to be cumbersome. A week ago it appeared as if Newt Wesley Rowell had almost a foregone chance—perhaps because he had a good press agent, but the hopes and ambitions of that budding and aspiring politician have received a jolt which places him back many points below zero.

The contest was remarkable in that it foresaw, almost for the first time in Canada, practically the whole clergy of at least one denomination arrayed on the side of the man who claims adherence to the same faith, and whose chief promise was to "abolish the bar." For years the Protestant people of Ontario and other provinces have stormed against the rule played by the Roman Catholic clergy of Quebec in the elections of that province and the Dominion. Yet, in the face of former protests, many of the ministers of Ontario

IT TAKES WELL

Yes, our lumber takes well with everybody who likes good, sound, bright, dry, well manufactured stock. That's because we're pretty particular and finicky ourselves when it comes to buying our stock from the mills.

We've found out that particular lumber buyers like to buy of a dealer where particular care is taken to handle only particular goods.

That is why particular buyers like to trade with this particular yard.

We want your trade, and you'll be glad to give it to us after you once see how well we serve you.

Reports from all parts of the district are to the effect that never before have crops been so far advanced as they are in July this year. Some record yields will be harvested this year if the favorable weather continues. H. A. Kennedy has a field of barley from which he yesterday pulled stalks fully three feet high and well headed out.

Mrs. Thomas Powell and family leave this morning (Thursday) for Gull Lake, where they will spend their summer vacation. Mr. Powell will accompany them, but will leave Gull Lake on Saturday for Calgary, where he will preach on Sunday morning and evening. He will return to Edmonton early next week—Bulletin.

The Provinces of Saskatchewan and Manitoba are reporting heavy loss of farm buildings and stock by lightning. This is increasing each year as the country becomes better settled and more fenced. The loss by lightning is also increasing year by year in Alberta, and where farmers have in the past carried their own risk, it is now becoming common for them to insure their whole bunch of stock, including sheep and hogs, against lightning, and any insurance company looking for the farmer's business must take to the farmer's terms by insuring against lightning as well as fire. This is one of the many points to which the Farmers' Mutual Insurance Companies are paying strict attention. Every animal insured in the Lacombe Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Co. is insured against lightning, as well as against fire, in its own stable, unless otherwise requested. The rate of insurance is low and the farmers, appreciating this fact, are swelling the amount of insurance carried by the company by insuring their stock. Any farmer having stock not insured would do well to call at the office of the company over the Union Bank in Lacombe and have a talk with the manager. It costs nothing to ask questions, and the company are prepared to answer all questions which may be asked.

About 2.30 Sunday morning Const. Miller received a telephone message from the residences of Dr. Hynes and F. McCar to the effect that a man was attempting to break into houses. Const. Miller was soon in town, and made a thorough search in the vicinity of the places mentioned, the C.P.R. station and other places, but could find no trace of anyone resembling a burglar. Before going back to bed, however, he took a walk down Alberta street, and while passing John McKenty's residence saw the electric light in the front room flash on for a second and then go out. This was repeated a couple of times, and Const. Miller investigated, knowing that the family were at the lake. He knocked on the door and receiving no answer walked around to the back of the house and discovered an open window and a few steps in the mud outside and in the sill. He entered the house and could find no one, and was going to seek elsewhere when he heard sounds in the cellar. Calling out, the first noise of his flashlight revealed a man hiding behind the furnace, who, when he saw Miller attempted to escape through the coal chute. The constable was on the alert, however, and without any struggle captured the man, who turned out to be Arthur Martin, a young man well known about town, and who had just completed a three months' sentence at the Fort on Monday for supplying interdicts with liquor. He was taken to the police station, and although he said he had a partner with him, he would not tell the police who it was, nor was brought before C. C. Switzer, J.P., on Monday morning and set up for trial on the charge of house breaking. Mr. McKenty made a thorough examination of the house, and reports that he has discovered nothing stolen, the police having arrived too quickly on the scene.

BASEBALL

LACOMBE 13, DIDSBURY 5. Lacombe Advertisers won their second game of Didsbury on July 1 by a score of 13 to 5. Didsbury started off well, making three runs in the first, but after that it was a walk away for Lacombe. Didsbury thought they had a chance, but it was a rumormongering along the line that Lacombe was down and out and did not intend to finish the series, but they had no idea of the staying qualities of the locals. Although we got away with a hand full of starts, the boys were not at all discouraged, and it only took more ambition in the players to go out and win. Daner pitched for Lacombe, and was very effective. R. Metzgar held the indicator.

LACOMBE 17, RED DEER 9. What a glorious victory, and from Red Deer at that, the team that has held the lead from the start. This win puts Lacombe well up, and if the boys continue winning for the rest of the series the pennant is ours. We have the best hitters and basemen on the line, and all that is necessary is to keep up the good work. Merriell and C. Daner both hit for home runs, and Trayne was robbed of one by the foul flag being out of place. C. Daner, who twirled for Lacombe, did good work both in the box and at the bat. Hill, our star outfielder, met with what might have been a serious accident in the fifth. While running in for a high one he tripped and fell, the ball hitting him with terrific force just above the temple. He was out of business for a few minutes, but with the aid of Dr. Simpson, who is always an interested spectator, he was able to finish the game. Score by innings: Lacombe—3 5 0 3 1 3 2 * Red Deer—0 0 3 0 4 0 1 1 Umpire—R. Metzgar.

THE BASEBALL DANCE

The dance on Friday night, under the auspices of the L.B.C., was a decided success in every way. A large number of tickets were sold around town, but owing to the extremely warm weather and the fact that many were camping at the lake, a very small number of the townfolks attended, although a large number looked in for a few minutes. But supporters of the ball club from outside of town turned out in good numbers, and the boys wish to extend their thanks for their patronage. The Rex orchestra, as usual, furnished the best music to be had in Alberta, and from the encores received was greatly enjoyed by those present. The supper was served by the Crown Cafe and from the remarks passed by those who partook of it, Mr. Metzgar is to be congratulated on his success as a caterer. The baseball club also wish to thank Bandmaster Marlor and the members of the band for their kindness in turning out and playing in front of the Comet just before the dance.

The locals put up a very good game, and again demonstrated their ability to hit the ball when needed. Daner again twirled for the locals, and, as usual, was effective, and had the visitors at his mercy. The fielders all played star ball, and the infield, with the exception of Thompson, who made a damfool play, were all at themselves. A very real double was pulled off in the sixth. Merriell pulled down a hot one, throwing the runner out at second. Mclear throwing the latter out at first. Garland also made a nice catch in right field, rlaying the ball to second and Mclear throwing the man out at the plate. Taken all around it was a very good game, and the spectators were greatly pleased with the result. The patronage is keeping up well, and it shows that the fans of Lacombe appreciate any kind of sport.

Score by innings: Bowden—3 0 0 0 3 0 * Lacombe—0 0 4 1 2 0 * Batteries—Daner, Trayne; Rollands, Washburn, Murphy; Umpire—R. Metzgar.

LACOMBE 12, BOWDEN 6. It is all over now but the bringing home of the pennant, Red Deer, who thought they had it won when they won four consecutive games are now on anxious street, as Lacombe has also SCIENCE!

"The old saying 'that science has no show against a fool's luck' is all wrong."—Uncle Abner.

When you discover a pair of Eyeglasses which do not become the owner, and going further, learn the optician's name, you will see the advantage. Nothing lends more to the grace and beauty of the face than a pair of Eyeglasses "which do fit." As the hand is trained in writing by following fixed rules, so the optician becomes skilled in adjusting frames to fit the face. Our eye-testing instruments are most scientific. In Watch Repairing, our trade is steadily growing. We are satisfying the people.

Triple Gang with Horse-Lift

You Can Do
33 1/3 Per Cent More Work

Think of a man increasing his efficiency 33 1/3 per cent. Think of doing all this extra work simply by adding another horse to your team. That is exactly what the new John Deere Triple Gang does. The work will be done for both the man and the horse. In these days, it is the most important thing that will enable you to do more work with less team in less time. Time is the most valuable thing you have. Do you know of any other place on the farm where you can do 33 1/3 per cent more work practically without increasing the expense?

GAINS 16, 24 TO 28 INCHES EVERY ROUND

The John Deere Triple Gang is made in two sizes, three 16-inch or three 24-inch plows, consequently, one either 16 or 24 inches. Consider what it means to turn a strip of ground a yard or more wide—a sheer gain from 24 to 32 inches every round over a two bottom gang plow of corresponding size. Full information for the asking.

Lacombe District News

Rocky Mountain House News

P. Paulson was in Red Deer this week flying on a homestead. He secured a very desirable quarter north of town, and expects to take up his residence there in the near future.

The Canadian Bank of Commerce had a representative at Nordegg last week. It is expected that the bank will open a branch there. It is difficult to understand why some bank has not opened a branch here, as it would be difficult to find a more promising location. It is hardly probable that we will much longer be without a bank now that there is a regular train service in sight.

Local merchants are finding difficulty in handling the butter and egg problem these days. For some time a good market has been available at Nordegg, but owing to the strike there the demand has fallen off to a very great extent. The opening of the mines should provide a good market for the farmers in this district, but it will readily be seen that it will be more or less uncertain. The lack of shipping facilities makes the situation all the more serious, as it would be unwise to attempt to ship perishable goods out of here under present conditions. The situation will soon be relieved in this respect when the outside markets will be available to the people here. All that can be done is to make the best of the unfavorable conditions in the meantime.

Dysentery is always serious and often a dangerous disease, but it can be cured. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has cured it even when malignant and epidemic. For sale by City Pharmacy. (4)

Red Deer News

Joseph Cole was kicked in the face and chest by his horse on Sunday evening, and it was thought that he was seriously injured for a time, but he is now sitting up and recovering nicely. No bones were broken. We congratulate Mr. Cole on his narrow escape.

Lloyd Williams had the misfortune to break his leg on Saturday, June 20. Mr. Williams was out driving west of Innisfail, and when jumping from his rig he caught his knee against the hub of the front wheel, the result breaking the bone below the knee. He was brought in to the Memorial Hospital at Red Deer.

C. Bolze, of Hillsdown, is in the hospital with a broken leg, received under peculiar circumstances. He was in the district during the storm on Thursday, and with others took refuge in a church at Penhold, which is being fixed up, when the wind lifted the church from its foundation, striking Mr. Bolze before he could get away, breaking his leg above the knee. It took about two hours to release him from his position.

The citizens generally will be sorry to hear of the death of Mrs. Margaret Ann McIlwraith of North Red Deer. The deceased, who was the wife of Mr. Sam McIlwraith, of the Great West Lumber Company, only took to her bed about Wednesday of last week, and died on Monday morning, June 29, at 2 a.m., from pneumonia. She was born in Guelph, Ontario, and was forty-eight years of age, and leaves behind, in addition to her husband, three children, two boys, and one girl.

For soreness of the muscles, whether induced by violent exercise or injury, there is nothing better than Chamberlain's Liniment. This liniment also relieves rheumatic pains. For sale by City Pharmacy. (5)

DEAD AND BURIED FARMER

Spokane, Wash., July 1.—James McKinnon, owner of a big ranch near Red Deer, Alberta, arrived in Spokane last night to deny the report that he was dead. He had been buried in a coffin, a body buried in Fairmont cemetery under the marking of a board bearing his name. As a result the name over the grave was changed today to read "unknown."

McKinnon's Alberta ranch, his 700 acre place in this state, and his substantial bank account, for which heirs have been sought, again are in his possession. The body of a man of McKinnon's appearance was taken from the Spokane river on November last and positively identified as McKinnon by friends and laundry marks "J. McK" found on the underwear of the dead man, seemed to clinch the conclusion. When McKinnon learned of his ranch in Alberta that he had been "found" and buried he started immediately for his ranch.

AVIATOR PURCELL DROWN'S WHILE SWIMMING ASHORE

Halifax, N.S., July 2.—Joseph Stanley Purcell, the Halifax aviator and balloonist, tragically ended his career at 7:15 this evening by being drowned in the Avon river at Windsor, while making a descent from a balloon. The victim of the accident was descending from the balloon, which had risen several hundred yards, when a wind carried him over the river, but not far enough to make him land on the other shore. When it was seen he was likely to hit the river, boats were sent out. The aviator was a strong swimmer and immediately struck out to reach the shore, but within 20 yards from the Avandale shore he suddenly sank.

BRINGS IN ATTORNEY GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT

Edmonton, July 2.—Investigation of police affairs took an unexpected turn today, evidence given pointing to Hector Chevrier, of the Namayo Wine and Spirit Company, as having powerful influence with the liquor license branch of the attorney-general's department. Admission of the evidence was fought by Alderman Clark on the ground that a political attack was being made by A. F. Ewing, K.C., upon the provincial government. Mr. Biggar declared that neither he nor Mr. Ewing had any knowledge of the evidence to be given.

The board was thrown by F. McConnell, a former horse dealer, who declared that when about to purchase the Great West Club he had been advised to see Chevrier. Chevrier was ill in bed in a place on Namayo avenue, and he told him he was in need of money and that if the mortgage on the Great West Club was not paid he would cancel the license.

"I said I was not going to pay it," said McConnell, "and an hour afterwards the license was cancelled."

On this occasion, said the witness, Chevrier had told him he was "carrying a lot of places here and wanted the money badly." On another occasion, after Chevrier came back from Spokane they were sitting in the front room of the Great West Club. Chevrier said: "You know I protect all these clubs and these houses, and they all buy their liquor from me."

Later in the day Hector Chevrier appeared and gave evidence at his own request, denying the evidence of McConnell and also stating that he had collected protection money from anyone.

J. D. Nicholson, chief of the provincial detective force, said that houses of ill-repute had increased greatly in the city during the past few months. He told of a conversation with Alderman Clark, in which the latter had protested against his (Nicholson's) interference with resorts operating in the city.

Before the investigation adjourned this afternoon, Chief Counsel Biggar stated that there were many witnesses, he did not see the use of calling them all. He suggested that the court adjourn indefinitely after tomorrow's sitting, and that the judge prepare a progress report on the evidence already submitted. In this Mr. Justice Scott concurred.

REMARKABLE CURE OF RHEUMATISM

Sept. of Sunday School in Toronto Cured by "Fruita-tives"

"It is a long time I have thought of writing you regarding what I term a most remarkable cure effected by your remedy 'Fruita-tives.' I have lived in this city for more than 12 years and am well known. I suffered from Rheumatism especially in my hands. I have spent a lot of money without any good results. I have taken 'Fruita-tives' for 18 months now and am pleased to tell you that I am cured. All the enlargement has not left my hands and perhaps never will, but the soreness is all gone and I can do any kind of work. I have gained 85 pounds in 18 months."

R. A. WATSON, Esq.

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 1st, 1913.

"Fruita-tives" will always cure even the most stubborn cases of Rheumatism because it is the greatest blood purifier in the world and acts on the bowels, kidneys and skin.

"Fruita-tives" is sold by all dealers at 50¢ a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25¢, or will be sent on receipt of price by Fruita-tives Limited, Ottawa.

ASKS IRISHMEN TO HOLD A PEACE CONFERENCE

London, July 2.—The second day's debate in the house of lords on the amendment bill to the home rule bill attracted almost as large an audience as the first, less interest being naturally attached to the discussion on the bill than on the previous evening, when Lord Lansdowne disclosed the attitude of the Unionist leaders. Perhaps the chief feature of the resumed debate was the general agreement expressed on the point, namely, that the first step would be to avert the danger of civil war.

Another feature was the warm commendation given to the Archbishop of York's suggestion of a conference of Irishmen on the subject of a permanent settlement. Among those who supported it in some form or other were Lord Islington, Lord Sydenham, Lord Lovat and Lord Shaftesbury.

Lord Dunraven, who has long been a prominent advocate for some form of devolution in Ireland was unsparing in his criticisms of the bill. He objected to "cutting up Ireland alive," and said that "ineffectual confusion" would be caused by having one customs post office in the greater part of Ireland, and another system in the excluded areas. He doubted whether exclusion would prevent a civil war. A much plainer plan, he said, "would be to drop these bills and ask Irishmen to confer together and see whether they cannot suggest a reasonable settlement of the question."

So many peers desire to speak on the bill that it has been decided to take a division Monday. A committee stage will be begun on Wednesday and the bill will probably be sent to the committee not later than Monday or Tuesday of next week.

The Ulster volunteers have now received their leaders' sanction to carry arms in the streets. This provoked a question in the commonsense action of the government intended to take. Irish Secretary Birrell's reply that the government did not consider it wise to interfere, aroused some protests from both sides.

Dublin, July 2.—In the absence of the police the Irish national volunteers succeeded in landing here tonight 400 cases of ammunition and 800 cases of rifles. The arms and ammunition were taken from on board a boat which had been hovering about the coast off Dublin for three days.

During the summer months mothers of young children should watch for any unnatural looseness of the bowels. When given prompt attention at this time serious trouble may be avoided. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy can always be depended upon. For sale by City Pharmacy. (2)

MICHIGAN MAY FOLLOW CALIFORNIA'S STEPS

Lansing, Mich., July 2.—The announcement that 400 Japanese laborers from California are coming to locate in Alger county, this state, has started an anti-alien land law agitation here and it is reported an attempt will be made at the next session of the state legislature to enact an anti-alien law, similar to the one in California. The Japanese will engage in vegetable farming when they arrive here.

THE WESTERN OIL FIELDS AND WHAT IT MAY MEAN

The importance of the discovery of oil in the West cannot be overestimated. This is the opportunity for striking new oil fields. In 1912, the world's production of petroleum was 47,276,726 metric tons, and of this the United States produced 83 per cent., and Russia nearly 20 per cent., but in the last year alone the possibilities of the use of oil have increased enormously and the demand is increasing all the time.

The use of oil as a fuel has made enormous strides in a few years and the fact that the navies of the world are beginning to make use of it, has led to a demand for new supplies.

When a British government was to work and invest $11,000,000 in a foreign oil field and talks of buying coal mines to extract oil, it shows the immense demand that there will be for this mineral in the next few years.

To take a single illustration that will appeal to our own people, in 1913 our own Canadian railways used 31,087,252 gallons of oil for fuel as compared with only 1,729,577 gallons in 1912.

This information is given at page xlviii of the latest report on Railway Statistics for Canada. Oil is the fuel of the future, and as the indications point to the prospects of Western Canada supplying a new and extensive oil field, the possibilities cannot be over-estimated.

Meanwhile the oil production of Eastern Canada is falling off. The production in Canada was confined in 1913 to the old established fields in Ontario, and a little pumped from gas wells in New Brunswick.

The annual output has been steadily declining during the past six years, and shows a further falling off in quantity produced in 1913, although owing to the higher price obtained for oil a larger total value is shown than for 1912.

A bounty of one and a half cents per imperial gallon is paid upon the production of crude petroleum, the Bounty Act being administered and payments made by the department of trade and commerce. According to the records of this department, the total output of petroleum in 1913 was 228,080 barrels or 7,982,798 gallons, on which a bounty of $119,741.97 was paid. The total value of the production at the average price for the year of $1.42 per barrel was $466,439.

The production in 1912 was 243,336 barrels or 8,510,702 gallons, valued at $354,500, or an average value of $1.418 per barrel. The average price per barrel at Petrolia during 1913 increased from a minimum on January 1, of $1.05 to $1.75 on April 16, $1.48, November 6, and $1.89 in December 22.

The production in Ontario as furnished by the supervisor of petroleum bounties was in 1913 as follows in barrels—Lambton, 156,747; Tilbury, 26,822; Bechwell, 34,349; Dutton, 4,310; Onondaga, 4,172; and Belle River, 464, or a total of 228,166 barrels. In 1912 the production by districts was—Lambton, 150,272; Tilbury, 44,721; Bechwell, 34,489; Dutton, 4,335; and Onondaga, 7,115, or a total of 240,935 barrels.

The production in New Brunswick in 1913 was 2,111 barrels, as against 2,079 barrels in 1912, or a total of 4,190 barrels in 1913.

The total value of imports of petroleum and petroleum products in 1913, states J. McLeish, in his annual report, amounted to $13,339,326, as against $11,978,053 in 1912.

The imports have been increasing rapidly during the past few years. Crude oil is being extensively used as fuel on the Pacific Coast in both steamships and locomotives, and the wide use of the gas engine motor has created a big demand for gasoline. The total imports of petroleum oils, crude and refined, in 1913 were 222,779,293 gallons, valued at $13,339,326, in addition to 1,628,839 gallons of wax and candles valued at $108,897. The oil imports included crude oil 162,062,201 gallons, valued at $5,250,835; refined and illuminating oils 19,393,027 gallons valued at $1,386,440; gasoline, 29,525,170 gallons valued at $4,822,941; lubricating oils, 6,789,451 gallons, valued at $1,172,986; and other petroleum products 5,008,844 gallons valued at $509,227.

The total imports in 1912 were 186,787,484 gallons of petroleum oils, crude and refined, valued at $11,858,533, in addition to 2,144,000 pounds of paraffin wax candles valued at $119,742. The oil imports included—crude oil 120,082,405 gallons, valued at $3,996,842; refined and illuminating oils, 14,748,218 gallons valued at $1,012,735; gasoline, 40,347,767 gallons, valued at $5,347,767; lubricating oils, 6,783,300 gallons valued at $1,077,712 and other petroleum products 4,288,463 gallons valued at $423,377.

There was an increased importation in 1913 of all classes of oil with the exception of gasoline, the increase being most pronounced in crude oil and refined illuminating oil, and this shows that if the western oil field should prove as promising as is believed, it will mean a new source of wealth that will compete with wheat for the kingship of the west.

Government by the PEOPLE

President Wilson recently gave expression to a true and wise remark which, like most sayings that are true and wise, has been said in one form or another many times before. Most of the troubles that arise when two people try to live together, he said, are due not to differences of opinion, but to the determination of one of them to decide what the other wants, or ought to want. In the state, as in the family, many of the worst troubles have arisen from that source; that is to say, from one class, or section, assuming to dictate to another class, or section, what it wants, or, in the opinion of the first-mentioned class or section, ought to want, or ought to recognize as being good for it, just as the journals in Eastern Canada that express the sentiments and promulgate the doctrines of a certain class instruct the people of Western Canada that they should not want, or ask for, or expect, that the western railway rates should be on an equitable basis with the rates in the east, or that they should have free entry for their wheat into the United States markets.

This assumption of one class, or section, to decide for another section what it ought to want is, essentially, a negation of the fundamental principle of democracy. Every extension of the franchise in Great Britain from the Reform Act onward has been a further dismal and entirely sincere lamentation and prediction of woe, based on the assumption that the people to whom the franchise was being extended were unable to use it wisely. The truth is that the franchise is the greatest educator; it is no less important a truth that the less highly educated classes have as keen wishes as the highly educated, and that the wishes of the highly educated classes are often as arbitrary and non-reasonable as the wishes of the uneducated. Self-interest and class prejudice are only too apt to be found operative, directly and indirectly, in any one class as in any other. Hence the necessity of all classes having a say, and make it yield the best results. It is for the people of Western Canada, realising the fullness of their duties and their rights as citizens of Canada, to do their part towards the achievement of this great end, by seeing to it that they are truly represented in the Dominion Parliament and in the Provincial Legislatures, and that sincere devotion to principle and to justice for all and special privilege for none is made the criterion of the public life of the nation.

If you are a housewife you cannot reasonably hope to be healthy or beautiful by washing dishes, sweeping and doing housework all day, and crawling into bed dead tired at night. You must get out into the open air and sunlight. If you do this every day and keep your stomach and bowels in good order by using Chamberlain's Tablets when needed, you should become both healthy and beautiful. For sale by City Pharmacy. (1)

THE REAL ISSUE IN THE ONTARIO ELECTIONS

A glance at the Ontario election returns gives some lessons which the casual observer may overlook in the general result. One of these is that after all, the "abolish-the-bar" issue cut very little figure, and that bilingual schools were more of a factor in the outcome. Indeed, it would not be very far from the mark to say that it was his attitude on bilingual schools which brought Sir James Whitney no small portion of his support.

Yet, in some constituencies, the same cause contributed to Liberal wins, and, in fact, is responsible for the net gains of the opposition. For at least six seats captured from the Whitney government are in places where there is a large French-Canadian vote.

In the county of Essex, for instance, all three seats went to the Liberals. In Ottawa city, again, where the French vote is large, both Whitney candidates went under, due, apparently, to the frequent friction between the government and the French members of the separate school board, and the votes of the Laurier appointed civil servants.

In some of the New Ontario constituencies, where the French-Canadian element has settled, it will also be seen that the tendency was in favor of Liberal candidates. This opposition can be reasonably put down to the government's attitude toward bilingual schools; and not to any temperance plank.

In Middlesex and Brant counties, where the Liberals have made notable gains, the reason may have been different, but it is clear that in the large proportion of the Ontario ridings the temperance question made little difference, and that bilingual schools were regarded as much more of an issue.

TIMES ARE CHANGING.

The general assembly of the Presbyterians representing a million or more of free Americans, had much to say about what folks, in its judgment, ought not to do on Sunday—as Charles Stedman says, its "don't" department worked at least full time.

But on the more interesting, if more difficult, question of what to do on the weekly day of rest and worship, beyond attending church, Sunday school and various church society meetings, it ventured no program.

It has always been easy for the priesthood to say to the laity, "Don't do this" and "don't do that." And upon the whole, as history teaches, they've been pretty generally obeyed.

Times today, however, aren't well suited for dogma; folks are increasingly asking "why."

Why is it wrong for a tired father to get rest and innocent pleasure watching a Sunday ball game and all right for a deacon to take the air in a $5,000 automobile?

Why is it wrong for the shop girl to go to a Sunday "movie" and all right for her respectable employer to play golf or leave highballs at the country club?

The trouble with a "don't" Sunday is that it doesn't fit equally well on all concerned. Moreover, it isn't inspiring.

You can't convince overspeeded workers that a blue Sunday is best. They get blue enough during the week. They crave and they deserve enjoyment one day in seven.

And quite naturally, if the church tries to deny them that, they will turn away from the church, as many thousands of them have already done.

If the next general assembly of the Presbyterian church will assume that people understand what it doesn't want them to do and will try to outline what it can help them to do in ministry, to their human needs, we promise by a lot of folks who really have not given much notice to the august body which has been deliberating in Chicago.

LACOMBE OIL AND DEVELOPMENT COMPANY, LTD.

NON ASSESSABLE AND NON PERSONAL LIABILITY

The above company, which is the first local company that has been formed for the purpose of drilling for oil in this district, was formed and duly registered on Friday last.

The company has been formed for the purpose of acquiring oil leases, covering 1,920 acres of land, from the Medicine Valley Oil & Development Company, Limited.

The meeting for the formation of the company was held at the offices of Edwin H. Jones, Esq., barrister, Lacombe, on Wednesday last, and the same was attended by W. F. Graham, Esq., occupied the chair. E. H. Wilson, Esq., explained to the meeting that the Medicine Valley Oil & Development Company, Limited, are the holders of oil and natural gas leases covering twenty (20) sections of land, situate in Townships 43 and 44, Ranges 3, 4 and 5, West of the 5th Meridian, or, in other words, in the neighborhood of Lavesta.

A preliminary contract had been entered into by Mr. Wilson with the holding company, by which the holding company agreed to sell to Mr. Wilson, as trustee for the new company, 1,920 acres, in consideration of $85,000, to be paid as follows:

$5,000 to be paid in cash and $80,000 by allotment to the Medicine Valley Oil & Development Company, Limited, of 80,000 fully paid-up shares of the par value of $1.00 each in the purchasing company. The selection of the land to be so acquired, to be made by the purchasing company.

A resolution was unanimously passed that a company be formed under the name of the Lacombe Oil & Development Company, with a capital of $200,000, divided into 200,000 shares at $1.00 each.

A further resolution was passed that the preliminary agreement before referred to be adopted, and that out of the shares forming the capital stock, 80,000 should be allotted to the selling company, 20,000 remain in the treasury, and the balance, 100,000, be offered to the public at par.

No payment is being made to any promoter, and the costs of the formation of the company are being paid by the vendors. The only expense that the new company will be called upon to meet out of the sale of its stock will be $5,000 cash payment to the vendor company, and the cost of the commission, which has been limited to 15 per cent.

The following officers and directors were appointed: W. F. Puterbaugh, Esq., M.P.P., President; Managing Director, E. H. Wilson, Esq.; Charles H. Putland, Esq., Secretary; Bentley, Esq., License Inspector; Lacombe, Esq., Secretary; Treasurer, Jesse Fraser, Esq.; Lacombe, Esq., Bankers, Union Bank of Canada; Lacombe, Esq., Auditor; John McKenty, Esq., Solicitor; Edwin H. Jones, Esq., Lacombe; Fiscal Agents for Alberta (south of Lacombe) Jesse Fraser Agency Lacombe; (north of Ponoka) Bernard McNeil, Esq., Edmonton; Registered Office of the Company, Railway Street, Lacombe, Alberta.

The 20 sections from which the land is to be selected, has been carefully chosen under the advice of experts, and the land to be taken by this company will be selected by Mr. Wilson, assisted by an expert, and they will at the same time decide upon the site for the drilling of the first well.

The whole of the money arising from the sale of the stock, with the exception of the payment to the vendors and broker's commission, will be used exclusively for development purposes, and the moment sufficient funds are in hand, drilling operations will be commenced.

We trust that the Company will receive strong support in the district, as everything in connection with it is local, and has been formed for the express purpose of giving to the local people an opportunity of investing their money in a sound concern, controlled by some of the best known men of the district.

It may be of interest to explain that the Medicine Valley Oil & Development Company is a private syndicate, composed of Edmonton ladies and gentlemen, with a few of our local townspeople, and that another development company is being formed in Edmonton to develop another portion of the 20 sections, thereby greatly improving the holding of the Lacombe company.

MAN-MADE LAWS GIVE WOMEN PRIVILEGES

Some time ago there appeared a digest of certain English laws concerning women, which indicated that although many women object to living under man-made laws, these very laws gave them certain important advantages that were not accorded to men. It appears from an article in the Buffalo Express that the laws of New York State, which affect women, are much like the English laws and that the suffrage movement in that state has no sounder basis than it has in England. The fact is that in practically all English-speaking countries and states the laws do not discriminate against women except politically. If men have refused to give women the ballot they have not taken advantage of woman's supposed political helplessness to treat them unfairly. They have, on the contrary, assumed that woman is the weaker vessel—an assumption which the suffragettes have done much to falsify—and have sought to shield her from many duties and penalties that men themselves must undergo.

Under the old common law of England, a man upon marriage became the custodian of his wife's real and personal property, he coming at the same time liable for her debts, whether contracted before or after marriage. Today in New York husband and wife can hold property independently, but whereas the wife can dispose of her property as she sees fit, the husband must have her consent before he can dispose of his real property. In New York, as in England, Ontario and most other English-speaking states and provinces, the wife's dower is reckoned to be one-third of her husband's estate. That is to say, in lieu of what the wife is supposed to have brought her husband at marriage, she becomes upon his death the owner of one-third of his real estate. He can not will this away from her. If he states in his will that she is to receive a certain sum of money in lieu of dower she can refuse to accept it, and a woman cannot leave her money and goods in his will and neglects to say that this is in lieu of dower, she can still demand her third of his real estate holdings.

In New York State a man is not held responsible for his wife's wrongdoing as in some other states, but he is responsible for her reasonable purchases, even if he has previously warned merchants not to give her credit. If she contracts a debt fraudulently she cannot be arrested. She can only be arrested in civil cases for willful injury to person, character or property, or for contempt of court. A husband is required to maintain his wife and children, his sons until they are of age and his daughters until they marry. A wife is not required to contribute a dollar to the support of either husband or children, no matter how much money she may have, and how little he may have. If a husband dies in debt his widow cannot be made to pay a dollar to the creditors, even though it might be shown that the debts were contracted on her account, and that she is able to pay them without inconvenience. If his life has been insured in her favor, the money cannot be taken from her to pay either his or her debts unless he has paid an annual premium in excess of $500 a year.

If a wife obtains a divorce, the husband is required to pay her alimony as long as she lives, even though she marries again. But when a husband secures a divorce his wife, though rolling in wealth, is not required to pay anything for his support. If a wife brings suit for her husband, the husband must pay her lawyer. If the result of the trial proves that the lawyer was ignorant or dishonest in advising her to sue, he cannot recover that money. Parents are the joint guardians of their child and if one dies only the survivor can appoint another guardian. Thus, if the husband died he would have no right to say who, beside his wife, would have the custody of their children. If a father dies leaving a minor child or more in wages and does not pay his property is liable for the debt, and he also is liable for imprisonment without the privilege of bail. In New York, as in most other places, a woman cannot be called upon for police duty, for service at a fire, or as a juror.

These facts are not cited as an argument against giving women the franchise, but in answer to the charge that men, in making the laws, have discriminated against women, and are unmindful of their rights. In England, where the agitation for the ballot has overstepped the bounds of sanity, the women prisoners are treated with a consideration that a Duke or a Prime Minister could not command. When they refused to eat, their jailers benevolently tried to force food upon them, as is done in insane asylums. When they protested against this treatment they were given their liberty and are re-arrested only when their strength and wits have been restored. For crimes that would place a sane man in serious danger of lynching or flogging they are merely cajoled, politically from the premises. In fact, the gentleness with which they have been treated in England is about the best proof that could have been produced to show that they are not oppressed by men, and that in their political weakness lies their greatest strength.

Rimby News

Celebration Day was held on the 29th of June. The weather being all that could be desired, induced a very large crowd to assemble on the town towastie, which had been specially prepared for the occasion. A long and varied program of sports was gone through, the winners of the principal events being the following:

In the 8-mile race, Mr. J. Connelly's horse easily secured first place.

Mr. Joe Wood, of Medicine Valley, was the owner of the winner in the pony race.

In the athletic contests, Walker Whitworth, of Bentley, carried off the first prize in no less than three events—the running broad jump, 19 feet 2 inches, which we believe established a record here; the hop-step-and-jump of 39 feet 2 inches, and the 100 yards fat run covered in remarkably short time.

The prize for the mile race was also wrested from our local champion, Glen Marshall, who came in second to the winner, Mark Rathwell, after a very close run.

In the fat men's race, Mr. T. E. Wilson took first prize, and his wife followed his good example by winning the married women's race.

The baseball games proved most exciting and were watched with keen interest. Games were played in the following order: Rainy Creek vs. Rimby, Rimby being the victors; Bentley vs. Centre valley, in which Centre valley won. In the third game, Rimby boys had an easy victory over Centre Valley.

A fine game of football was engaged in between the Bentley and Rimby teams, ending in a victory for Bentley by a score of 1-0.

Mr. Wood, of Carstairs, gave a capital address in the interests of the Local Farmers' Union, and was listened to with close attention.

There were several ice cream and fruit stalls on the grounds, and meals were served most admirably by Mrs. Wilton in the hall and by Frank Peabody.

A dance was held in the hall in the evening, at which there was a large attendance.

Joe Marshall held a family reunion on this day, when twenty-six members of the family sat down to dinner under the parental roof.

About 50 of our residents attended the celebration at Bentley on the 1st, and we regret to announce that as Mr. and Mrs. Pete Adams were returning home Mrs. Adams was thrown from the buggy, breaking her arm. Dr. Byers set the limb, which we are glad to hear is making favorable progress.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Rimby have spent a week in Calgary, and Mrs. J. Marshall visited the same place. How much oil stock they purchased we have not yet learned.

Joseph Marshall has recently sold two quarters in the neighborhood, viz.: S.W. 1/4 32-2, Dr. Byers, who will shortly build a family residence, and the S.W. 1/4 43-2 to Mr. J. Little.

DROWNED AT WETASKIWIN

Wetaskiwin, July 2. John Birrus, an old timer in the district, met with a drowning accident in the treacherous waters of the Pipestone creek yesterday. He and his brother were wading across the stream for a swim, when the brother immediately caught John and carried him under. The brother reached shore in safety. Although a careful watch has been kept ever since, the body has not yet been seen. A number went out from the city this morning to assist the party of searchers. Deceased was aged 28 years.

AMERICAN CHURCH

On Sunday next, July 12th, the Rev. A. J. B. Dowdley will visit Bentley, Gull Lake and Lacombe. Services as follows: Bentley 11 a.m., Gull Lake 1 p.m., Lacombe 7 p.m.

ONE ACCLAMATION ONLY IN MANITOBA

Winnipeg, July 3.—The last lap of the Manitoba election fight was entered upon today when candidates were nominated in forty-five constituencies, the election taking place on Friday, July 10th.

In three constituencies, La Paz, Churchill-Nelson and Grand Rapids, which are in the far north of the province, the elections have been deferred and no date for them has yet been fixed. In the turned Aime Benard, Conservative, and the member for that riding in the last legislature, acclamation, this being the only uncontested seat.

Liberal and Conservative candidates have been nominated in all other constituencies save B. seat, in Centre Winnipeg, where the Liberals are supporting F. J. Dixon, an Independent.

The leaders of the parties are running in their old seats, Premier Roblin in Dufferin, and T. C. Norris in Lansdowne. The seats in Centre and North Winnipeg, in addition to the straight party candidates, are being contested by Socialist candidates. Outside the city the fight is left almost exclusively to the regular nominees of the parties.

CONSERVATION OF GROUND MOISTURE

Whence do crops draw their supply of moisture? Do they draw it mainly from the rains that fall during the rainy season or do they draw it from the store of water in the soil beneath the surface which has accumulated from the April showers, the snows of winter and the rains of autumn? This is the vital point and on it hangs the whole question of tillage. If the supply is drawn from the summer rains, our tillage must be such that the soil will quickly absorb the rain and discharge the surplus supply; if it is drawn mainly from the spring and winter precipitation, our tillage must be varied accordingly. Much will depend on the season. If the season is wet, the current rains will supply much of the moisture required, but if the growing season is dry, the supply must be drawn from the underground supplies stored up during the previous rains and snows.

As the amount of water lost from the soil by evaporation and by the transpiration of the plant is far in excess of the rainfall during the growing period of any ordinary season, the plant must get much of its moisture from the soil by capillarity, that is, the water travels up in a draw upward in the soil from particle to particle as required by the plant. This can easily be demonstrated by placing a few plants in a crock and setting them down into the soil, but so placed that no moisture can enter them from the soil. The result will be that the plants will die from lack of moisture.

This brings up the question how to till in order to have the moisture available when needed. Fall plowing will do much towards holding winter and spring rains. By having the soil loosened, more water is retained. Subsoiling is often resorted to as a means of holding the water in the soil that it will hold more moisture. If this is done, care must be taken to only loosen the surface and not bring it to the surface. Summer tillage prevents loss of moisture. If the soil is left compact and solid, the water comes to the surface and is lost by evaporation. At the same time the soil is left cold and less pervious to the air. Frequent cultivation keeps the weeds down, allows more air to get into the soil, helps to warm the soil, and by keeping a blanket of loose earth as a covering, the water is prevented from passing off into the air by evaporation and is retained for use by the roots of the crop. After a rain it is a good practice as soon as danger from stickiness is past—to lightly cultivate or harrow the ground to restore this blanket. It is a good plan to run a light harrow over unseeded cereals and corn after they are up. The corn may be lightly harrowed before it comes up and a couple of times after it has come up. In harrowing cereals, care should be taken not to harrow when the grain is too small to allow to get a good root hold. The increased moisture will more than compensate for any slight loss due to the harrowing.

Good tillage ministers to the needs of the plant in many ways. It may not always be possible to work the soil as frequently as theory requires, but it is well to follow as closely as practicable.

For soreness of the muscles, whether induced by violent exercise or injury, there is nothing better than Chamberlain's Liniment. This liniment also relieves rheumatic pains. For sale by City Pharmacy. (3)

CONSERVATION OF THE PUBLIC HEALTH

Ottawa, July 6.—The work of the commission of conservation of Canada will be extended shortly along new lines. To the task of conserving the natural resources of the Dominion will be added the conservation of public health and the education of the general public in matters pertaining to this. On August 1st, the first number of a publication dealing with public health, public hygiene, sanitation and similar subjects, will be issued. After that date it will be issued monthly and copies distributed to all on the mailing list of the commission as well as all doctors, teachers and others interested in the work. By means of this publication it is intended to carry on a vigorous campaign for the education of the public on this question, so important to national progress. A similar campaign has been in progress in the United States for a number of years under the control of the boards of health of the different states and has been attended with marked success and a distinct betterment of conditions.

It was at one time proposed to establish a national board of health as a separate department of the Dominion Government, but it has now been decided that the board should be developed by the conservation commission.

When the fact is taken into consideration that out of the 100,000 deaths, more or less, in Canada last year, 40,000 could have been prevented by a proper regard for sanitation, some idea will be gained of the importance of the task assumed by the commission. The commission of water supply will be gone into very carefully in the early part of the investigation of conditions.

SUMMER SESSION FOR TEACHERS

The policy of the Minister of Education for increasing the efficiency of the teachers has met with splendid response, two hundred beginning work at the university. One hundred additional teachers asked to be admitted, but the legislative appropriation was not sufficient to make it possible to provide for them.

In order to improve the teachers in their ability to teach such subjects as agriculture, gardening, nature study, art, music and household arts, the Minister of Education last year directed that a summer session for teachers be organized at the Provincial University. The responsibility for its organization was placed on Dr. J. C. Miller, then principal of the Normal School at Camrose. Emboldened teachers attended and profited at the same time.

By enjoying their summer's work, the success of the session caused the minister to provide for expansion this year, and Dr. Jas. C. Miller, Provincial Director of Technical Education, was placed in charge of the work again. The attendance this year, if the inspectors and members of the staff are included, will be two hundred. Over one hundred additional teachers have asked to be enrolled, but the legislative appropriation for the work was not sufficient to make it possible to admit them.

Over forty of the eighty who attended last year are returning for additional work in the various subjects. The school inspectors will be in attendance this year to get in close touch with the new work being given the teachers, so that they may have a satisfactory relationship to the work of the teachers in the field in these subjects.

From no less than 55 different centres are the teachers coming. Edmonton district contributes

CUTWORMS—SOME TIMELY HINTS

Cutworms are very injurious this spring. Reports of their destructiveness have come in from various quarters. It has been found that poisoned bait made of bran meal, sweetened with sugar or molasses, and made decidedly green with a liberal application of Paris green, to be a very good remedy in the garden. A tablespoonful of this should be put at frequent intervals among the plants subject to attacks, not, however, nearer than 12 inches to the plant, for in case of rain, the Paris green might be washed against the root and would injure or kill the plants. Thorough cultivation is an aid. Pieces of shingle or board placed at intervals over the garden, serve as traps under which the cutworms hide toward morning, and where they can be found and killed. Frequently the predators will be found within an inch or so of the plant cut, buried an inch under the soil. Young plants, like cabbage, cauliflower, etc., when first set out in a small garden, should be protected by paper or tin, or a barrier of some sort, which should extend into the ground an inch or so, and two or three inches above the surface. This can be removed when the plant becomes tough enough not to invite attack from the cutworm. On large acreages, fall plowing and thorough cultivation is perhaps the most practical treatment.

20, Medicine Hat and Red Deer, 16, Lethbridge and Taber, 14, Calgary, 12, Red Deer, 9, Wetaskiwin, 6, Farnham, 6, Cardston and Raymond districts, 8, the Crow's Nest, Pass 7, Stettler, 4, Edson, 4, and from some seventy other points one or more are coming.

The enrolment by courses is as follows:—Preliminary Courses in Agriculture, 120; Advanced Course in Agriculture, 44; Courses in Nature Study, 92; in the Manual Training Courses, 71, in the Art Courses, 105; in the Domestic Science Courses, 64, and in the Physical Training Courses, 60.

The benefit to be derived from attendance at these sessions is as follows:—Intellectual, professional and social tonic, especially for those teachers who have been teaching in the smaller town and village schools and in the one teacher rural schools. It is an excellent means whereby teachers coming from other provinces or from the motherland and holding full qualifications may be brought into real touch with their fellow-teachers in the province and with the departmental officials. These teachers holding qualifications which admit them directly to the work in our schools find themselves very much alone and out of touch with the general spirit and dominating purpose of the educational policy of the province.

NOT MUCH CHANCE FOR A CHANGE IN MANITOBA

Dispatches from Winnipeg—not without some political coloring—convey the information that the election campaign there is going to be an exceptionally keen one, and that there is some uncertainty as to the outcome.

From this distance, however, there does not appear the least chance of defeating the Roblin government. And, indeed, when the men who compose that government are compared either individually or collectively with those who make up the opposition, it is rather difficult to discover any reason why it should be defeated.

Included in the Liberal platform are such catchy planks as the following: "Banish the Bar," compulsory education, abolition of clubs, woman suffrage direct legislation, hydro-electric development, and a number of others. Were some of these much-to-be-desired reforms being espoused by a party composed of men not only sincere in their advocacy of them, but qualified to carry them out, there is no doubt that the people of Manitoba would be inclined to change their allegiance. But, to any person who knows politics in Manitoba, the "Banish the Bar" plank in the Liberal platform is nothing short of a joke, while the compulsory education, hydro-electric and other planks but serve to make Mr. Norris' political aggregation look ridiculous.

There is grave need of a cleansing of the political atmosphere in Manitoba, but it is greatly to be feared that the pupils of the school which the Hon. Clifford Sifton so thoroughly versed in the most approved election methods will have to pass away before Manitoba can expect much from the Liberal party.

BOURASSA ON HOME RULE

Henri Bourassa is in England and has been exercising the Englishman's privilege of writing a letter to the Times. The Nationalist leader doesn't like the way the Times' Toronto correspondent has explained Canada's attitude on the Irish home rule question, and he hastens to make plain that the mass of the Canadian people are two to one in favor of home rule.

If Bourassa means that Canadians are two to one in favor of a scheme of devolution for the British Isles, with local government for the various sections, leaving the central government free to deal with matters of imperial importance, his statement is most likely correct, provided always that such a scheme means that Canadians are two to one in favor of the forcing of Irish home rule upon an important dissenting minority of Irishmen, he is badly mistaken.

The Asquith government forces the home rule measure because it has sold itself to the Nationalists in parliament, and not because it is so much in love with the measure. It knows that with the dropping of home rule would come the loss of Nationalist support, which would mean defeat.

SOCIETY WILL BENEFIT BY DEADBEAT'S PASSING

The severe sentences being imposed by judges throughout the country, and the formation by business and professional men the continent over into associations to protect themselves against "deadbeats," heralds the death-knell of that specimen of humanity which is colloquially referred to as being afflicted with ingraving pocketbooks.

It is possible to get into the habit of doing a thing; it is possible to get into the habit of not doing it. The habit of paying bills promptly is a good one to form early in life, but it is also a hard one to form because it is sometimes a hard thing to do. Very few in early life remain long enough in a position to pay their bills promptly to permit the formation of a habit of doing so. Extraordinary and unlooked-for expenses are liable to spring up, and the even tenor of the habit suffers interruption. Then, the habit of not paying bills is liable to grow it a strict watch is not maintained.

Organized efforts by business and professional men to weed out from among their clients those who are exceptionally given to not paying their bills, if exercised carefully and judiciously, will do a lot of good, and undo a lot of injustice that is being perpetrated by "deadbeats." No one who meets his obligations honestly will object to it. And the financial situation may in time become easier because of it. The elimination of the "deadbeat" would be a good thing for society at large, and of the men on the bench who are handing out the misery unmercifully the worst that can be said is "more power to their elbow."

Wetaskiwin News

Word was brought to the city the forepart of the week that a young man named Enock Willard had lost his life in a boating accident at Buck Lake. It seems that three young men went out to set some nets when the boat capsized. Two of the occupants held on to the boat and were subsequently saved, while Willard undertook to assist one for assistance. He went only a short distance when he sank. The unfortunate man was aged 21 years and had recently taken up residence on his homestead. The remains have been taken to his former home in Emerald, Ont. for interment, being accompanied by his father.

The court en banc on Tuesday last disposed of the application by the Law Society of Alberta to have Alexander Knox, barrister, of Wetaskiwin, struck off the roll of solicitors in this province on the ground of alleged embezzlements committed by him while practising law in Scotland before he came to Alberta. The leading judgment was given by Chief Justice Harvey, who reviewed the evidence recently taken in the case on commission in Scotland, and Knox's story since coming to this province, including his sudden departure from Wetaskiwin in 1912, and his sojourn in Honolulu under a false name, and found that the charges made against Knox were proved. The court directed that Knox be allowed one year to clear up the charges made against him in Scotland and to satisfy the court that this has been done, otherwise at the expiry of the year he will be struck off the roll of solicitors without further orders. Mr. Justice Simmonds concurred in the judgment. Mr. Justice Stewart dissented. The Knox case was for suspending him from practice in the meantime, but it was ultimately agreed to allow him one year to settle with his creditors in Scotland.

LIQUORS ARE BANISHED FROM AMERICAN NAVY

Washington, D.C., July 2.—The famous order issued by Secretary Daniels last April banishing all intoxicating liquors from the United States navy went into effect yesterday. The order reads: "The use or introduction for drinking purposes of alcoholic liquors on board any naval vessel, or within any yard or station, is strictly prohibited and commanding officers will be held directly responsible for the enforcement of this order."

The tentative new laws for the army, passed by congress after a severe and prolonged battle of the temperance forces of the country, are less sweeping than the prohibition which has now been put into effect in the navy. The order of Secretary Daniels abolishes the officers' wine mess and absolutely forbids the "use or introduction" of alcoholic liquors. In the army prohibition is restricted ("the sale of or dealing in" intoxicating liquors. Army officers under this law may maintain a wine mess at their clubs.

ATTORNEYS WITHDRAW TITANIC DAMAGE SUITS

New York, July 2.—Attorneys representing claimants in suits for nearly $18,000,000 against the Oceanic Steam Navigation Company, resulting from the loss of the Titanic, asked Federal Judge Hand yesterday to permit their clients to withdraw from proceedings in this country so that they may begin actions in England, where the law fixes the liability limit at $5,000,000. Decision was reserved.

Recently the United States supreme court decided that proceedings to collect damages from the steamship company in this country shall be governed by the United States statute which limits the defendants' liability to $97,000.

LAW-TO TAKE ITS COURSE IN CASE OF KRAFCHENKO

Ottawa, July 3.—After a lengthy sitting of the cabinet council today, it was said that the recommendations of the government in connection with John Krafchenko, sentenced to hang at Winnipeg July 9, has gone to the governor general for final ratification. Though nothing official has been given out, it is understood that the cabinet has recommended that the petition for clemency be not granted, but that the law be left to take its course. The order-in-council will be signed by the governor general in a few days.

A LIFE SENTENCE FOR CHINESE MURDERER

Vancouver, B.C., June 30.—Declaring that he thought Jack Kong, the Chinese servant who killed Mrs. Chas. Millard and dismembered and burned her body, was guilty of murder instead of the lesser crime of manslaughter, which the jury had decided, was the crime, Justice Gregory today emphasized his feeling by sentencing the 17-year-old criminal to spend the rest of his life in the penitentiary.

CORNERED CHINAMAN KILLS HIS ASSAILANT

Essex, Sask., July 1.—George Bidler, farmer, was shot and killed last evening at Bromhead, by Lee Han, Chinese restaurant keeper. The Chinaman was arrested by Constable Wheeler, R.N.W.M.P., and appeared on preliminary trial before Magistrate Spera, who committed him for trial.

Bidler has been drinking during the day, and late in the afternoon proceeded to the Chinaman's, where he threatened to clean out the place.

Lee Han told him to stand off. Lee Han, who fired the shot, killing Bidler instantly.

Threats were made to lynch the Chinaman, and the police, to avoid trouble, hurried him to Estevan.

ASSIEBOIS GOES AGROUND

Montreal, July 2.—The Canadian Pacific Railway steamer Assiniboia with one hundred passengers aboard, went ashore today at Bad Neighbor shoal, Cove Island, Georgian Bay.

News of the grounding reached the offices of the Marconi wireless telegraph here from the radio station of Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario.

In communicating the ship's plight, the wireless operator on the boat said it was thought the Assiniboia could back off as she was being and there were 11 fathoms of water under her stern. Her forepeak is leaking slightly. The weather this morning was calm and foggy.

The steamer Manitowish was called to the assistance of the stranded vessel, although it was said she was in no danger. The Assiniboia was bound from Sault Ste. Marie to Port McNicoll.

Rimby News

Seldom has a community been so highly favored as the Rimby people have been during the past year in the possession of Rev. Robert Irwin, who has just left to take up church work at Gull Lake for two months. Mr. Irwin combined all the qualities that go to make a minister in the truest sense of the word, one who sorrowed with the sorrowful and rejoiced with the joyful, and whose sermons, by their eloquence, earnestness, etc., must be, if not at present, productive of great results for time and eternity, as his genialness and wit even the love and esteem of one and all, and as a small token of this congregation, the young people gave him a surprise party at Mrs. Watt's beautiful residence, where he made his home (Mrs. Watt taking the place of mother to him), and after spending a most enjoyable evening in social games, music, and regaling themselves with ice cream, cake, etc., they presented him with a purse of money, of which he was truly worthy, and accepted in a graceful manner. During his stay here he labored incessantly with the young people, trying to lead them to a realization of the seriousness of life and the necessity of applying their minds to study and setting up true ideals of pure manhood and womanhood and follow in Christ's footsteps, and so to be men and women of true worth and usefulness in the world instead of frittering their time away in foolish pleasures. Mr. Irwin has also brought a great reformation on the children of Rimby, whom he so loved, and so old and young regret his departure exceedingly, but we have faith that he will be a very bright star in his chosen work, the ministry, and we look forward to his return in the near future, after the completion of his education.

SIR WILFRED MAY TOUR BOTH EAST AND WEST

Ottawa, July 2.—Sir Wilfred Laurier will spend July at Arthursville. They leave tomorrow. The Liberal leader may take a trip to the west in the fall. He will address a number of political meetings in Eastern Canada next autumn.

Blackfalds News

The annual church parade of Blackfalds L.O.L. took place on Sunday to the Methodist church, when the chaplain, Rev. Bro. E. Davies, preached an eloquent sermon, taking for his subject, "Why I am a Protestant?" Isaiah 8:20. "To the law and to the testimony, if they speak not according to this word surely there is no morning for them." The chaplain was supported in the pulpit by E. E. Matthias, Master of Blackfalds L.O.L., and J. Graydon, Master of Lacombe L.O.L. Vocal solos were rendered by Mrs. Davies and Bros. Hand and Hukle. The church was prettily decorated with flowers, ribbons, flags and various emblems of the Orange Order. There was a large congregation present, including a number of Orangemen from Lacombe and Red Deer. Mrs. Trout ably presided at the organ and the church orchestra assisted the congregational singing.

The Blackfalds Union Sunday school picnic will be held on Thursday, 10th, at Jackfish Lake.

Mrs. Heenan is spending a few days with her daughter at Hillsdown.

Dr. Elliott, with Mrs. Elliott and family, are now settled in their residence in Blackfalds. The presence of a medical gentleman is an acquisition to our town.

The Methodist Ladies' Aid will serve ice cream in Mr. Stenson's store on Thursday, 9th, afternoon and evening.

Dominion Day was spent quietly in Blackfalds. Most of the residents spent the day out of town, the stores being closed.

day in Calgary. They intend making their home north of Edmonton. We wish them good luck.

Racey Dunham is building a new barn for Robert McKay. Bert Fackler is building a barn in town for E. Shull.

The Blackfalds Hotel is now in full swing under the able management of Miss Bills.

A good program of music and song is being arranged for the concert on Friday, 17th. The Methodist Ladies' Aid will serve refreshments. Adults 35c, children 15c. Lakeside choir will render musical selections under the leadership of Mr. Leonard Jones and Blackfalds talent will be to the front. Proceeds for paragonage debt.

Joe Raven and family moved out to the Canyon this week.

C. G. Mickey's Sale

Chas. G. Mickey, whose farm is fifteen miles south-east of Lacombe, will hold a clearing sale of all his farm stock, implements, etc., on Friday next, July 10, commencing at 11 o'clock. In this sale, there is listed a splendid bunch of horses (24 head) consisting of matched heavy teams, drivers, and brood mares; also a high-grade Clyde stallion. He is also offering a lot of sheep, cattle and hogs, which will be sold without reserve.

A good line of farm machinery is also on the list, consisting of binders, mowers, rakes, plows, harness, etc., all in good shape. Six months' time is offered to all who want it, on approved joint bankable notes, with interest at 8 per cent, or a discount of 5 per cent for cash.

If you want anything in the above lines, be sure and attend this sale, as everything goes without reserve. C. F. Damin, Bentley, Auctioneer.

CorrespondenceTo The Editor

Recently when in Calgary, accidentally meeting the vice-president of the U.F.A., his kind invitation to visit the head office of the United Farmers of Alberta was accepted and the visit made. Their rooms, as well as the offices of the G. G. Grain Co., are in the Sherman Grand Building. Our first surprise was in the room accommodation. Apparently one side of the block on one of the flats was occupied by the U.F.A. Office after office, with the most complete, up-to-date equipment in every respect, and each had its occupant and particular line of work.

The surprise was even greater when Mr. Fream so kindly explained and showed by their system of doing business, by their books, etc., the very large amount of business done since commencing operations. It takes seven figures to express the volume of business done. Their success from our point of view seems most marvellous.

Notwithstanding that in dealing with the farmers the co-operative principle was not very much in evidence, the association was in the field much the same as other buyers, and all the time, whether appreciated or not, were steadily helping out the farmer.

To our query, "would it not be better if in buying and selling the farmers would draw nearer to the system of co-operation practiced by the Danish farmer, which had made them famous as agriculturists," Mr. Fream said yes, if the farmers would stand for it. They had attempted this with the farmers in handling their stock on the five per cent basis, but they would not respond, and even if it happened sometimes, when they came down to the same basis as other buyers, the other fellow got the stock—these were some of the difficulties.

However, in the farmers' supplies proceeding from the U.F.A. the principle of co-operation is to the front. For instance, in flour the association has made it possible for local districts to get their flour anywhere, from sixty cents to a dollar per sack cheaper than the usual merchant prices.

Time and space will not permit of further discussion, but this much additional might be said. That in making a success of ventures of this kind, it is always the men that are behind the movement; in this case it is the President of the U.F.A., Vice-President E. Carswell and Secretary Fream, of the Grain Growers' Co. These men should have the continued support of all its members and others of our farmers who are not members can make no mistake in joining some of the local unions. If we could have co-operation in its entirety, the same as in Denmark, in every line of agriculture, especially in hog raising, the killing and curing and fixing their own prices, it would be better for sure. This should be the goal. But for the present the best thing is the U.F.A.
